The case is altogether different with the Gazette and Giddings & Co. Old Joshus is in "regular standing" in the Republican party; he really occupies a much higher position in it than the Gazette he is not only "Chairman of the Republican State Execution Committee," but he is the "power behind the throne" of the Ashtabula Sentinel, the Ohio State Journal, and a number of organs of smaller tone, (the Gazette included in the latter,) and he is the power behind the latter,) and he is the power behind the latter, and the latter and l the Republican party of the State! Who are Republicans?

The Cincionati Commercial last week took exceptions to the doctrine of Mr. Giddings, as enunciated in his recent letter to one Thomas Corwin, and protested against its claims to L. E. Birde, Miss M. The Commercial came back upon its Columbus cotumporary, which it terms one of the "mendicant press of Columbus," in the following crushing style:—

The Journal maserts that only those who would hunt down the "pasting fugitire," have a right to call in question the propriety of the attitude of Mr. Griddings. The assertion is most shallow, and indicates, on the part of the Journal, a weakness and wickedness lamenta the and inexcussible. We may condemn a law without a time ling the murder of the officers of the law. The talk of slaughtering slave catchers, in which Mr. Griddings induless cannot be conducted to emphasically. If there is a party in Ohio that endorses it, all good critical must hope just extinction and labor to break it in pieces. The latter sentence of the above is, we think, about as direct a home thrust as we remember "as a whole" endorse the doctrice of Geddings is plant from the fact that its principal organs not only fellowship the man who atters it, but defend him against those in the ranks who can not stomach it, and say so. If the language of the principal leaders of the Republican party in the State—the original getters up and sustainers, at the present time, of the organization cannot be taken as republican doctrine, what is republicanism? There are not, it would appear, a dozen leading men or a dozen leading unwapapers in Ohio who agree as to what is republicanism, but each one appears to have a special dispensation, granted by the emergens to have ever seen. That the Republican party

There are followers of Mr. Giddings who will accept his declaration, that it is right to kill men engaged in the enforcement of an odionastatus, who may be as rash in deeds as he is in words. He tells us that a jury of citizens of Ohio, would judge both the law and the fact in case of the killing of a slave catcher, and that the slaver would go free. He proposes, he has often said, to kill the first slave hunter who crosses his patch, and then fock to the jury bux for a verdict of acquittal. The probability is however, that if he should commit murder in Ohio—even the killing of a m U. S. Marshall.

The probability is however, that if he should commit murder in Ohio—even the killing of a m U. S. Marshall without trial, in front of his own deau, was proven upon the Hox. They can, then, in advance, make preparations to do so in the most approved style, for it will not be done. The talk of these southern salamanders always brings to our mind the Southern Convention, which, it will be remembered, was prolific only of smoke. These fire-enters had that institution "way down south" all their own way, with engineers and conductors of their own No chosing: they had no interference, and they Are we were unable to do any thing with it.
